Calendar Description

Introduction to drawing as an independent practice and as a tool for conceptual, perceptual, and technical problem solving.

Expanded Description

SA 2610B (Winter) will guide students to explore technical, material, and conceptual concerns in drawing as an independent practice. Lectures, lessons, and course materials will introduce drawing as both a primary form of studio creation and an integral part of diverse contemporary art practices. Students will develop familiarity with a variety of drawing media and methods, developing technical and conceptual skillsets through in-class drawing activities, workshops, studio projects, ongoing sketchbook development, and collaborative group discussions and critiques. Students will be expected to experiment and actively engage with course materials.

Learning Outcomes / Objectives

Upon successful completion of the course, the student will be able to:

- Utilize drawing materials and methods as tools for observation and artistic exploration
- Utilize drawing as a medium for conceptual and critical art-making
- Demonstrate technical, analytical, and critical awareness of drawing in contemporary studio art practices
- Contextualize their own and others' work in relation to contemporary and historic drawing and studio art practices
- Address and constructively discuss their own and peers' work, contributing to a cooperative in-class community

Evaluation

The final grade for the course will be based on the following items weighted as indicated:

• In-class Studies/ Drawings	15 %
• Project 1	20 %
• Project 2	20 %
• Project 3	25 %
• Sketchbook / Research	10 %
• Participation and Community	10 %

Projects are graded based on the following criteria:

- Conceptual Awareness: Ability to critically consider meaning-making within the project's framework
- Technical Merit: technique, presentation, and composition within the project's framework
- Ambition, experimentation, and resourcefulness in problem-solving
- Overall success: how the technical and thematic requirements of the project have been met or exceeded; presentation, resolution

In-class drawing activities and student sketchbooks will be graded based on:

- Effort, proficiency, and engagement
- Resourcefulness, ambition, and experimentation
- Fulfilling activity parameters

Course Requirements

Students will be expected to participate during in-class drawing activities; to complete 3 projects over the course of the term; to maintain an ongoing sketchbook practice each week; and to participate during in-class discussions and critiques. Students should anticipate to spend a minimum of 6 hours/week on course materials outside of class time.

In-Class Drawing Activities (15%)

Live model and still-life drawing, technique exploration, guided activities, and more will be a significant component of this course. A student will not have the same experience or benefit of this course without participating during in-class drawing activities.

Projects

You will receive detailed instructions for each project

Sketchbook / Research (10%)

Your sketchbook is a form of ongoing research as an artist. Practicing, experimenting, drawing from life, becoming more familiar with your materials, and doing sketchbook activities is a fundamental part of developing your skills in observing, drawing, and rendering. For this reason, sketchbooks are considered an integral part of this course. Students will be expected to complete 5 studies in their sketchbooks each week, based upon techniques, materials, and ways of rendering discussed in class. Students can and should note influences, project planning, and any other relevant research in their sketchbook as well. Your sketchbooks become resources you can return to in the future.

Participation and Community (10%)

Reflects a student's attendance, preparedness, contributions, and respect for others during work periods, critiques, lectures, and discussions. In order to receive these grades, students must actively take part in critiques, work periods, and in-class discussions. Asking questions, sharing insights, and overall participation is crucial to the learning objectives of the course as well as personal development. Students should under no circumstances be on their phone for any reason other than note-taking while instructors, guests, or peers are presenting. Doing so is disrespectful and will be noted.

These grades are also affected by:

- demonstrated engagement with in-class material
- sharing questions and information through the OWL platform, emails, and one on one
- bringing work, research, and examples to class
- asking questions and sharing insights in response to lectures and research materials

- peer to peer engagement in class, such as sharing insights, ideas, reflections, or otherwise supporting one another to better understand and respond to course materials and project requirements

Late Assignment Policy

Assignments are expected to be completed by the start of class on the day they are due.

HOWEVER if work is incomplete at time of critique, in-progress work should still be brought to class and presented for discussion. Critique discussions are an integral part of the learning you will do in this course and are opportunities for feedback and collaborative growth that should be taken advantage of.

Incomplete assignments will be accepted with 5% of the project grade subtracted for each class session in which the completed work is not presented to the instructor. Extensions may be given at instructor discretion, reach out to your instructor if an issue arises.

For medical exemption on assignments worth over 10% of final grade, students must refer to UWO policies on Academic Consideration.

In-class drawing activities individually count for less than 10% of a students overall grade. To accommodate reasonable student absences, final grading for in-class drawing activities will not include the student's two lowest grades for these days. Beyond these two potential exceptions, students who miss in-class drawing activities will be required to submit medical documentation directly to the appropriate Faculty Dean's office and it will be the Dean's office that will make the determination whether academic consideration is warranted. Given the University's Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy, instructors may not collect medical documentation.

OWL

Students are responsible for checking the course OWL site (<http://owl.uwo.ca>) on a regular basis for news and updates. This is the primary method by which information will be made available to all students in the class.

All digital course materials will be posted to OWL: <http://owl.uwo.ca>.

If students need assistance with the course OWL site, they can seek support on the OWL Help page. Alternatively, they can contact the Western Technology Services Helpdesk. They can be contacted by phone at 519-661-3800 or ext. 83800.

Technical Requirements

Students should have technology such as a computer and smart phone or digital camera sufficient to access OWL site for class and to document and submit images of art work.

University and Department Policies

Prerequisite Checking:

You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as basis of appeal. If you are not eligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time, and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. These decisions cannot be appealed.

Plagiarism:

Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own,” will not be tolerated. (Citation excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170). This includes presenting the visual or aural work of another creator as your own. Visual or Aural Plagiarism may involve both hand-based media such as drawing, painting, printmaking and sculpture, as well as digital media such as photography, video and sound. It includes work subsequently manipulated or transferred between different media, as well as self-plagiarism – work submitted for assignments previously produced and graded for another course. Similar to textual plagiarism, all student work involving the visual or aural work of others must be appropriately cited/identified whether in print or orally. Failure to do so will lead to similar academic penalties as those identified in Western’s Academic Calendar.

Student Conduct:

All students will conduct themselves in a manner that will be consistent with the maturity and academic integrity expected of university students. Student conduct shall be consistent with the general laws of the community and with University regulations. Students shall show regard and respect for the rights, safety, and property of all members of the University community and are expected to act in a responsible manner within the University and the community at large.

https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/code_of_conduct.pdf

Academic Sanctions:

In instances of non-payment of prescribed tuition and other fees, the University shall seal the academic record. When an academic record is sealed, the student will not be able to: a) view grades; b) register in future courses; c) receive transcripts or a degree diploma; d) obtain admission or readmission.

The above prohibitions shall be in force until such time as indebtedness to the University, including payment of fee for removal of the seal, has been cleared to the satisfaction of the University.

Additional Course Material Request Policy

For online courses the material may be presented in a variety of ways at the instructor's discretion. Requests for additional material can only be made in cases necessitating academic accommodation. If a student requires Academic Accommodation for the course material, they can contact Western's Academic Support & Engagement department. <http://academicsupport.uwo.ca/>

Academic Consideration:

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet their academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet their academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Dean's office (the Office of the Dean of the student's Faculty of registration/home Faculty) together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. These documents will be retained in the student's file, and will be held in confidence in accordance with the University's Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy. Once the petition and supporting documents have been received and assessed, appropriate academic accommodation shall be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty. Academic accommodation shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete their academic responsibilities. (Note – it will not be sufficient to provide documentation indicating simply that the student “was seen for a medical reason” or “was ill.”)

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner.

Documentation from Family Physicians/Nurse Practitioners and Walk-In Clinics A Western Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required where a student is seeking academic accommodation. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. An SMC can be downloaded at http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf.

At the time of illness, students should make an appointment with a physician/nurse practitioner at Student Health Services. During this appointment, request a Student Medical Certificate from the Physician/Nurse Practitioner.

Students should request that an SMC be filled out. Students may bring this form with them, or request alternative Emergency Department documentation. Documentation should be secured at the time of the initial visit to the Emergency Department. Where it is not possible for a student to have an SMC completed by the attending physician, the student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that their ability to meet their academic responsibilities was seriously affected.

Instructors are encouraged, in the first instance, to arrange participation requirements and multiple small assignments in such a way as to allow students some flexibility.

Attendance:

Under university regulations, if someone misses more than 15% of their classes (15% is equivalent to missing 8 hours of Lecture and/or Studio Lab, due to absence or lateness, or a combination of both, per semester) without written corroboration for health or bereavement, students can be debarred from participation in final evaluations and/or assignments.

Note that if a student is consistently absent from a 3-hour class for 1 hour, they will exceed the 15% cutoff and be debarred; assignments may stop being accepted and such assignments will receive a mark of 0 (zero)

Religious Accommodation

Students should consult the University's list of recognized religious holidays, and should give reasonable notice in writing, prior to the holiday, to the Instructor and an Academic Counsellor if their course requirements will be affected by a religious observance. Additional information is given in the Western Multicultural Calendar.

Electronic Devices:

During Exams: Unless you have medical accommodations that require you to do so, or explicit permission from the instructor of the course, you may not use any electronic devices during any tests, quizzes, midterms, examinations, or other in-class evaluations.

During Lectures and Tutorials: Although you are welcome to use a computer during lecture and tutorial periods, you are expected to use the computer for scholastic purposes only, and refrain from engaging in any activities that may distract other students from learning. From time to time, your professor may ask the class to turn off all computers, to facilitate learning or discussion of the material presented in class. Unless explicitly noted otherwise, you may not make audio or video recordings of lectures – nor may you edit, re-use, distribute, or re-broadcast any of the material posted to the course website.
